

Things will get tough, tough, tough

7th November 2007

"Things will get tough! Things will get tough! Things will get tough, tougher than they are now! The price of fuel will rise exorbitantly. The property market will slump and the mighty pound will be no more. A famine in the land."